Spring 2015 Concert for the Warwick Valley Chorale

Warwick NY, April 9, 2015

The Warwick Valley Chorale has announced its May 2015 concert series, “From Country Roads to Broadway,” with three upcoming area concerts. As always, admission is free, although donations will be welcome. These concerts will mark the group’s 74th consecutive year of choral performances.

The concerts will open with “Frostiana,” a series of Robert Frost’s best-known poems set to lush pastoral music by Randall Thompson. “Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening,” “Choose Something Like a Star,” and five other Frost selections will showcase the New England wit and insight of Frost’s iconic poems.

After intermission, the Broadway medleys will include Sweeney Todd, West Side Story, and selections from many other classics from shows such as Carousel, Mame, Hello, Dolly! and Annie.

The group, directed by Stanley Curtis, includes volunteer singers from the entire region and is accompanied by Gail Johnson. For further information, visit the Chorale’s website at www.WarwickValleyChorale.org. New members are always welcome.

The three free choral concerts will be:

- Friday, May 8th, 7:30 PM at Grace Episcopal Church, 58 North St., Middletown NY 10940
- Friday, May 15th, 7:30 PM at Goshen United Methodist Church, 110 Webster Ave., Goshen NY 10924, and
- Sunday, May 17, 4:00 PM at the Warwick Reformed Church, 16 Maple Ave, Warwick NY 10990
